CABLENET Aerospace, Inc. is a full service, single source supplier of a wide variety of high performance fiber optic cable assemblies.

We design and manufacture single mode and multi-mode cable assemblies to customer specifications. We have low cost solutions that satisfy any customer requirements.

CABLENET is an AS 9100 and ISO 9001, NQA certified, contract manufacturer. CABLENET technical staff is trained and certified in IPC 620A and J-STD-001 standards.

We ensure zero defect quality through a statistically monitored and controlled manufacturing process and trained technical staff. We perform physical and performance-related testing of all products. Final products may be shipped with an As-Built Package, containing test reports, certification, and all documents relevant to the project.

Our experienced engineers are ready to work with your engineers in the design process, or have the capability to create a design based upon your specifications. We also provide a quick turnaround prototype service.
